Tampa YMCA Welcomes New Executive Leadership

Tampa, FL (May 16, 2018) – The Tampa Metropolitan Area YMCA is pleased to announce Bob Moss as its new executive vice president/chief operating officer (EVP/COO) and Scott Barnhard as its new vice president/chief development officer (VP/CDO). Filling both open executive leadership positions were among the first tasks for new President & CEO Matt Mitchell.

Bob comes to the Tampa YMCA from the Y in Central Maryland, where he led the day-to-day operations of membership/program services and partnered with key volunteers and staff to ensure mission advancement. During his tenure, that Y experienced significant growth in membership, programs and grant operations. Prior to that, Bob spent 13 years as a senior vice president with the Y of South Hampton Roads where he led membership operations and impact strategies. He also held executive director roles for the YMCA of Central Florida and the YMCA of Greater Richmond. Bob has faithfully served the Y movement for 31 years - distinguishing himself in several mission and managerial areas.

Scott joins the Tampa Y from the Y of Central Florida where he served as vice president of financial development for seven years. Prior to that, he served a similar senior leadership role for the YMCA of Greater Kansas City. Altogether, Scott has more than 22 years of service as a Y staff member and volunteer and more than 28 years of nonprofit fundraising, development and public relations experience.

“We are ecstatic to welcome both Bob and Scott to our Y family,” says President & CEO Matt Mitchell. “They will help deepen our community impact through youth development, healthy living and social responsibility. They are both valuable additions to our executive leadership team as we focus on organizational excellence while identifying and cultivating long-term relationships in support of the Y’s cause - to strengthen the community.”
